Frequently Asked Questions

This FAQ provides general answers to common questions about AroCode orders, payments, refunds, returns, and support. Check the terms supplied with your specific product or service for exact conditions.

Orders and Payments

Q: How can I check my order status?

A: Use the order ID in your account or contact AroCode support. Support may ask you to confirm the email address used for the purchase.

Q: What should I do if I was charged twice?

A: Keep both transaction references and contact support. AroCode will review the payment records before any adjustment is made.

Q: Can I change an order after placing it?

A: Contact support as soon as possible. Changes may not be possible after an order has been processed or dispatched.

Refunds and Returns

Q: How do I request a refund?

A: Contact support with your order ID and reason for the request. Include photos or other evidence if the item is damaged or defective.

Q: How long does a refund take?

A: After approval, AroCode normally initiates the refund within 5–10 business days. Your bank or payment provider may need additional time.

Q: Does every item qualify for a refund?

A: No. Eligibility depends on the applicable refund policy, the item's condition, purchase terms, and any legally required exceptions.

Q: What if my item arrives damaged?

A: Contact support promptly, share the order ID, and keep the packaging and item until support provides instructions.

Product and Support

Q: Where can I get product help?

A: Contact AroCode support and provide the product name, order ID if applicable, and a description of the problem.

Q: What information should I include in a support request?

A: Include your name, order ID, purchase date, a concise description of the issue, and relevant screenshots or photos. Do not send passwords or full payment-card details.

Q: Does this FAQ override a product-specific policy?

A: No. The policy and terms provided for the specific product or service take precedence where they differ, subject to applicable law.
